

PARAMUS HIGH SCHOOL
PARAMUS, NEW JERSEY
1964 SUPPLEMENT

I have had companions ♦ ♦ ♦

"Sink it, Mr. _____!" yells an enthusiastic Senior section during a thrilling basketball game.

"This book was due yesterday . . ." says Pat McSweeney between classes.

"Gift of the class of '64" is unveiled by Senior cheerleaders Kathy Edwards and Ronni Prezalar.

East and West meet through a dance performed by Bonnie DeCesare, exchange student Sylma Zerrudo, Claudia Pratt, and Lois Griffel.

"Where's the St. Bernard?" jokes Al DeLauro as he poses for a picture.

In my joyful school days ♦ ♦ ♦

Kathy Molluso, Bob Lloyd, Cynthia Hernandez, Phil Sheridan, Rich Shenkberger, Dave Samuels, Lorna Findlater, Judy Goss, Rich Petouvis, Jack Maltagliati, Jean Thompson, Lois DeRobertis and Vic Canzani, watching the dancers on the floor at the "Swinging Safari".

Ronni Prezalar and Sol Glastein express their undying love during a scene from Charlie Mala's play "A Big Fat Old Rat."

"Give me a push, huh?" kids Spartan skier Lois Griffel.

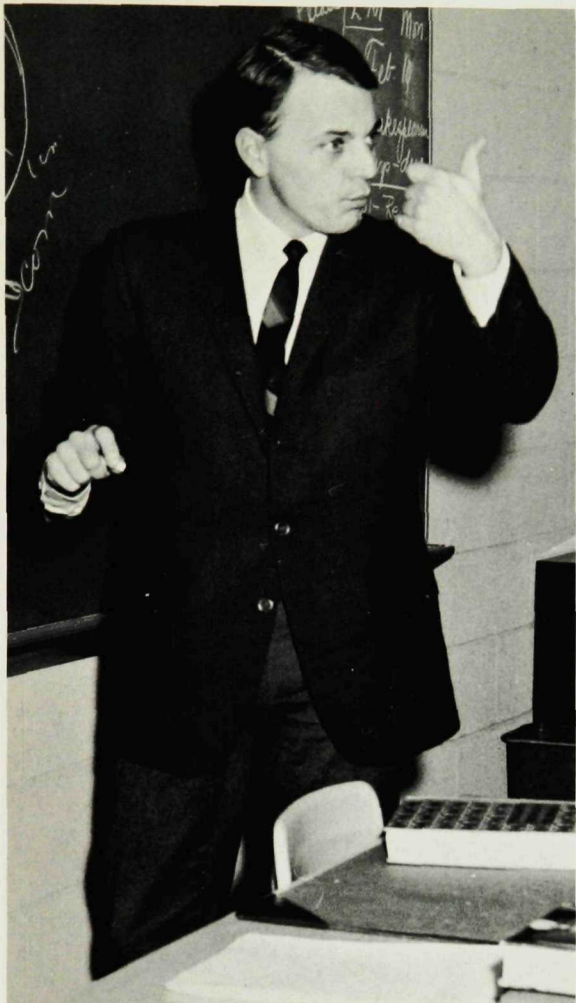

"You wouldn't take that picture, would you?" dares Ray Cavicchioli.

"Eyes front", a command obeyed by the Little Choir during our 1964 Paramus World's Fair.

All, all are gone ♦ ♦ ♦

"Your projects must last exactly forty-five minutes," emphasizes Mr. E. Sanzari.

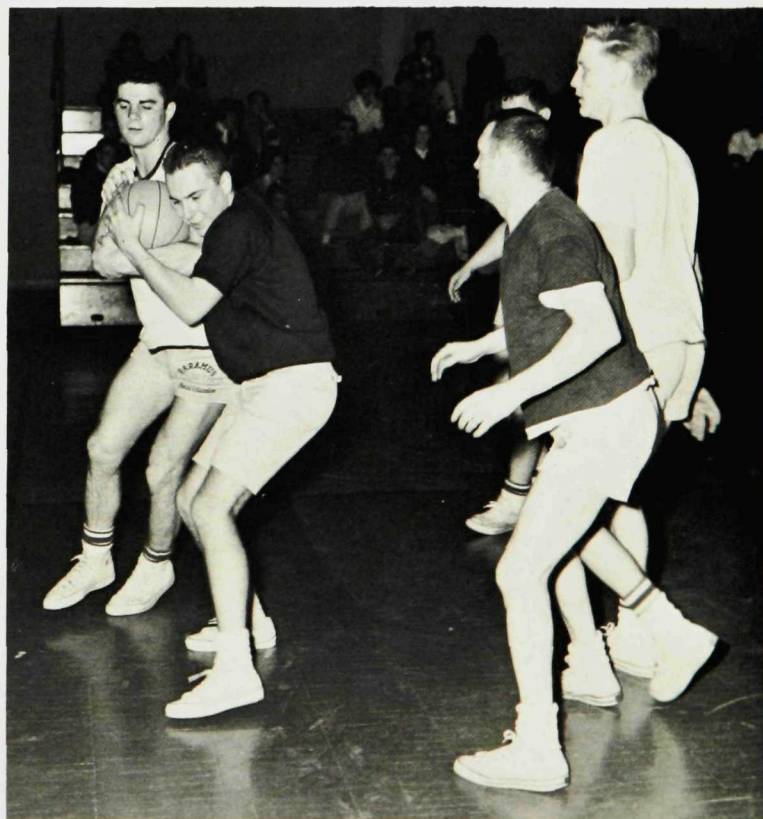

"Clear the slope!" warns Dave Brody on the annual ski trip.

Ken Mancuso portrays a priest in Charlie Mala's play "A Big Fat Old Rat."

Mrs. Emily B. Taylor, from the Goodwill Industries of New Jersey, addresses the student body during an assembly.

"The teachers have the upper hand" during the Student Faculty Game.

The old familiar faces.

"I just wanted to turn around . . . look what happened!" laughs Lillian Ollinger.

A final touch to put Loretta Hughes' flowing hair in the exact position for a picture.

"Come around to the front door in 2 minutes!" are the directions given to Sol Glastein by Ronni Prezalar in A Big Fat Old Rat.

Diane Rinehart, Bob Cortese, Karen Kolley, Judy Goss, Miss Bishar, Lou Bivona and Chris Peterson of our Senior Prom Committee discuss preparations for the big event.

Senior Joe Incandela, Mimi Bauer and Georgianna George "swing" at the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Lou Sette and Louise Webster interrupt their friendly chat to pose for a picture.

If we do meet again ♦ ♦ ♦

Director James Morganti gives some last minute pointers during dress rehearsal to the cast and crew of "Kiss Me, Kate."

Charlie Mala unsuccessfully tries to persuade Laura Ganteaume to continue the Shakespearean performance in a scene from "Kiss Me, Kate."

"Why Can't You Behave?" a specialty number done by Michele See and Dennis Campbell in "Kiss Me, Kate."

Phil Fontana gives out information to Martin Ollinger, Nancy Bergsma, Judy Karlstrom, Barbara Price, Mrs. A. Colnaghi, and Kevin Sabella at the Paramus World's Fair.

Paramus High's own Dixieland Band gives a real Carnival atmosphere to the Paramus World's Fair.

"We're going to make a hell of a show out of the 'Shrew' ", says Charlie Mala to the cast of "Kiss Me, Kate."

why, we shall smile ♦ ♦ ♦

Tired but happy Seniors relax on the bus on the way home from Washington, D. C. on their Senior Trip.

"A lasting memorial to a beloved President", the grave of the late President Kennedy visited during the Senior Trip.

"Roommates for a weekend," Joe Hughes, Richard Grefrath, Ted Fletcher and Clifford Lovas get together in their room at the Marriott Motor Hotel in Washington, D. C.

The Paramus High Dance Band plays for the enjoyment of the Seniors at the Sayonara Dance held June 5th.

Nick Valenta, Lorlee Wagnez, Cheryl Moriak, and Chuck Hlawatsch enjoy the fine musical ability of Mike Held at the Sayonara Dance.

"Refreshment Time," Students line up to enjoy fruit punch served by underclassmen at the Sayonara Dance.

If not, why then ♦ ♦ ♦

Donna Iraci presents the first copy of the 1964 Delphian to Mr. G. Hodgins, as yearbook advisor Mr. R. Boyce looks on.

"On behalf of the Prom Committee, we would like to welcome you to Tammy Brook Country Club" is the greeting given by Lou Bivona, Jack Maltagliati, Ralph Celentano, Bob Cortese, advisor Miss R. Bishar, Ronnie Carletta, Judy Goss, Chris Peterson, and Karen Kolley.

"Did they really write THAT about me?" wonder Kathy Edwards, Pat Cerami, Jackie Levin, Jean Hermann, Terry Carnish, Ray Cavicchioli, Ricky Ricciardelli, Nancy Bergsma, Kathy Butler, and Stephanie Chylak at annual Senior Activities Dinner, on June 10, 1964.

"Oh, Joe McDonough had a school" the starting line of the song written by Andy Dunn, Phil Fontana, Mike Held, was performed for the hilarious enjoyment of the Seniors at the Activities Dinner.

Bob Besserer, Ronni Porrino, Kathy Edwards, and Dennis Martinez pause during the prom "Moments to Remember" to pose for a picture.

this parting was well made.

"The President's table", Kevin Sabella, Phil Fontana, Jeff Behnke, Bob Reme, Jeff Perry, Helene Posey, Bonnie DeCesare, Brenda Renshaw, Anita Compton and Margie Mandell get up to dance the last dance of the evening.

"Here's to the future", toast Lois Griffel, George Nebeling, Joe Stack, Vita Schmidt, Laurie Bernstein, Al DeLauro, Doris Jacobsohn, and Ronnie Lombardi.

Barbara Fox, Jerry Giampetruzzi, Lorlee Wagnez and escort enjoy a dance to the music of the Alison Barton Band.

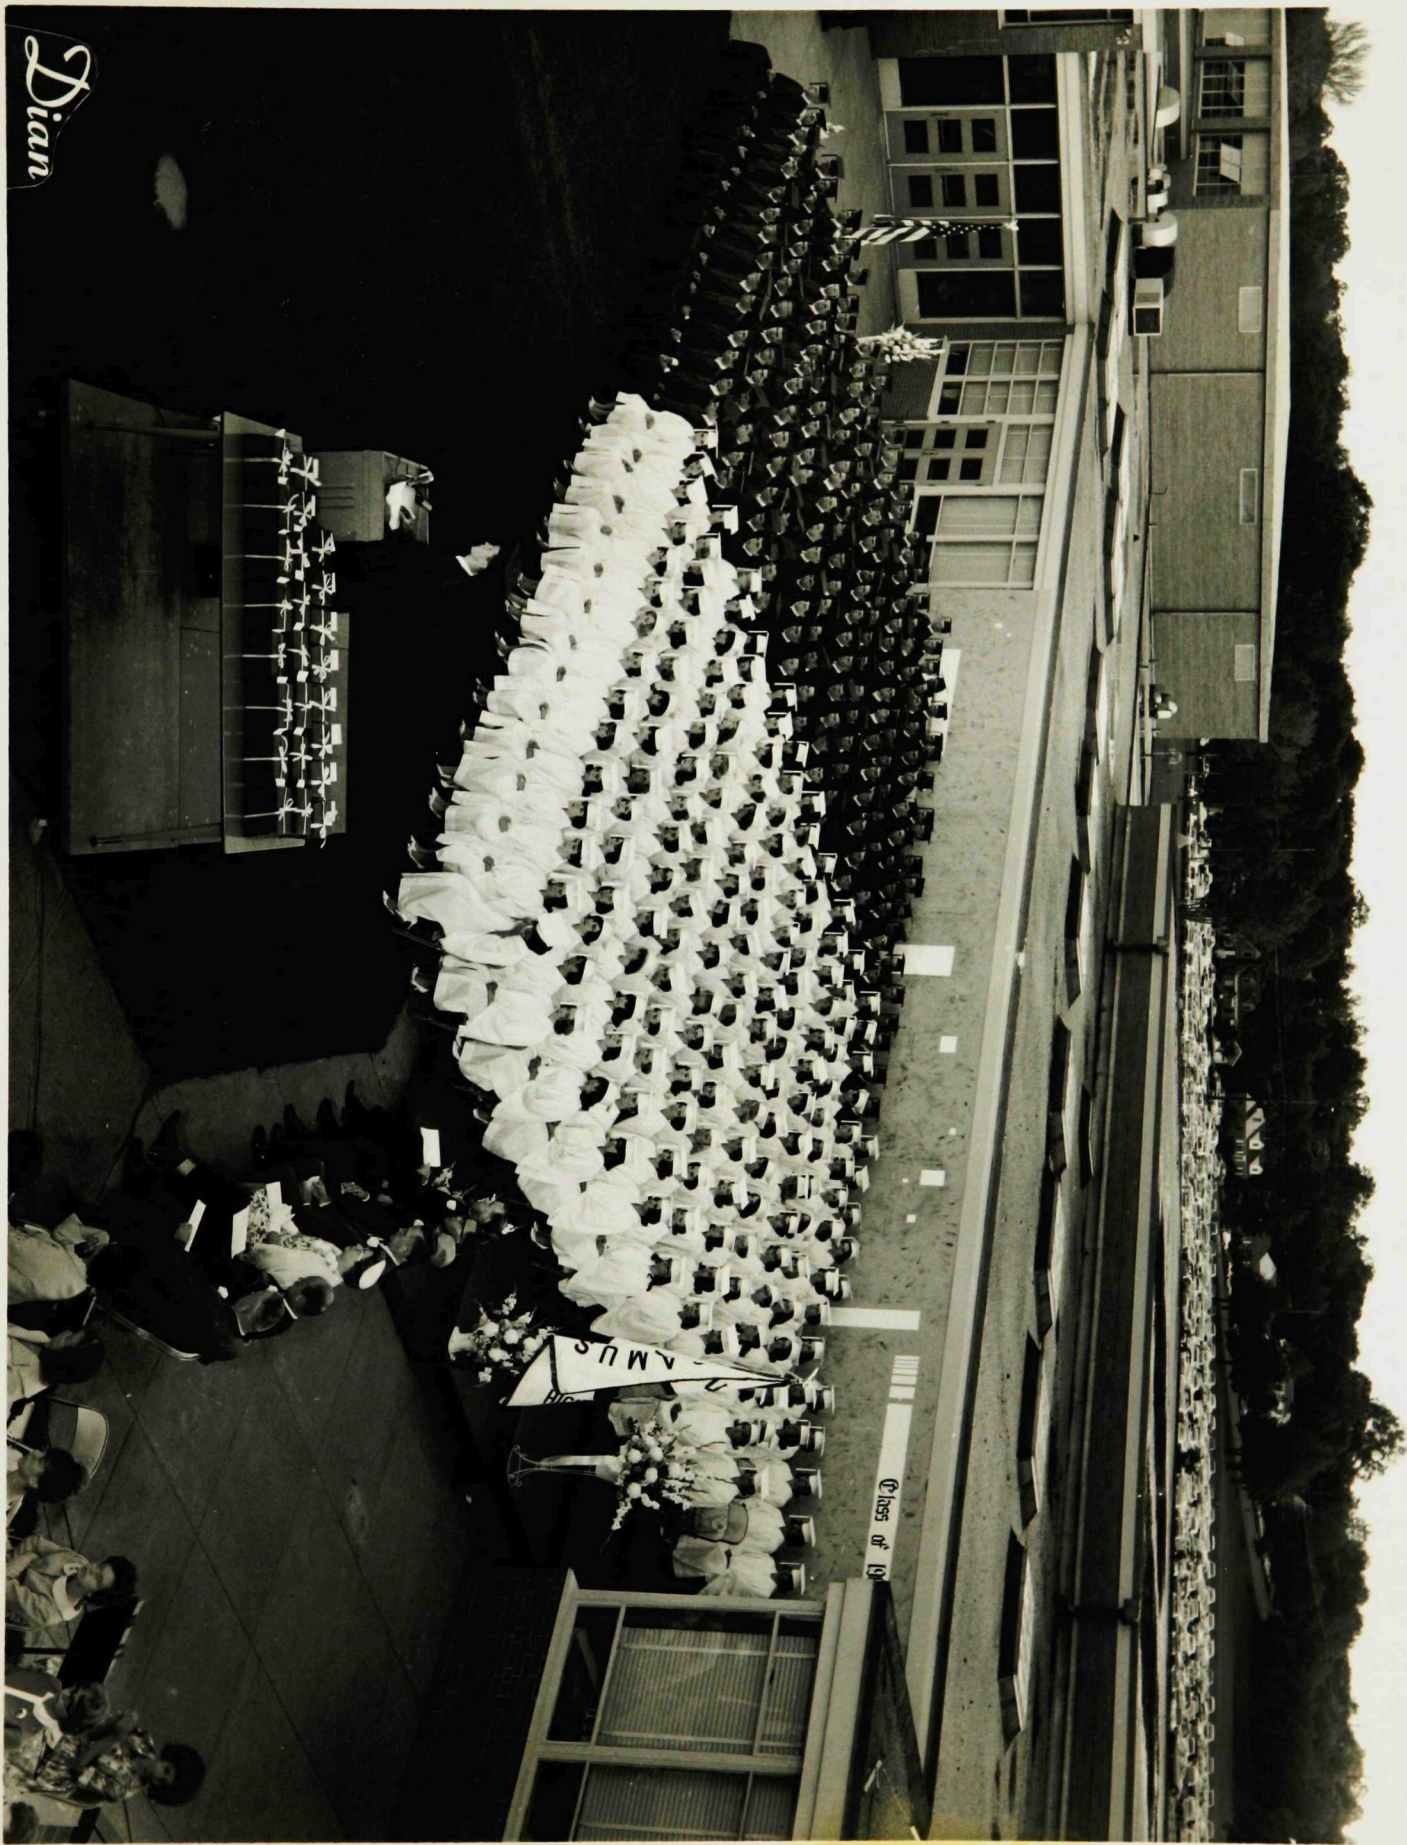

Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonough, Mr. and Mrs. M. Azzolino, Mr. and Mrs. D. Haug and Miss A. Nardo take time out from their duties to enjoy themselves at the Senior Prom.

Enjoying the view from the terrace at Tammy Brook Country Club are Donna Iraci, John Dolan, Gloria Scoskie, and Fred Fall.

Dian

